

Word of the Day – Irrelevant

Transcript

Hi everyone. Today's word of the day is irrelevant. Irrelevant is a word that means not relevant, not applicable, not pertinent to the matter at hand. Usually I can use the word irrelevant in a debate. I can use it to describe my feelings about a paper or someone's opinions. And it's a little bit strong because it's basically saying that something's argument or logic doesn't go in line with the actual argument at hand. So for instance I can use irrelevant in this way,

“My teacher graded my paper and said that my statement about environmental problems was irrelevant, the question regarding the origins of war. However there are some countries that are fighting over natural resources like drinking water.”

So in this case, I believe that environmental problems were creating war however my teacher disagreed because he thought my ideas were not pertinent, not applicable or just irrelevant to this situation. So I hope you can use the word irrelevant to describe someone's else's ideas. Thank you for listening to Word of the Day. You can find the script at Practicus.co.kr. Thank you and have a good day.
